

Bill Mo comes from Daqing, in Heilongjiang Province, and previously served as the English translator/account manager of M&Y Global Services. He has long-standing experience in a number of industries - business/legal contracts, construction, IT, commerce and marketing – and is presently a freelance translator. He has been a successful Business Process Outsourcing manager and helped initiate a Lean & Six Sigma program that increased workers' efficiency by 30%. His hobbies include raising tropical fish and playing pool, and he invites anyone who shares these interests to contact him. Bill has co-translated an incredible three volumes of Tales of MI7: The Vengeance of San Gennaro, The New Europeans and Libya Story.